Medical.

Hoofland's German Bitters,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters

IS composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heart-burn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skilfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

PREPARED BY Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, Induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, etc.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Penna., writes:
Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly,

GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, I can certify this from my experience of it.

Yours, with respect,

JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,

J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates st.

FROM REV. S. D. FENDALL,
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours, truly,

S. D. FENDALL.

THE GOLDEN SIDE.

There is many a rest on the road of life,
If we only would stop to take it;
And many a tone from wisdom's voice,
If the querulous heart would make it!
To the sunny soul that is full of hope,
And whose beautiful trust ne'er faileth,
The grass is green, the flowers are bright,
Though the wintry storm prevaileth.

Better to hope, though the clouds hang low,
And to keep the eyes still lifted;
For the sweet blue sky will soon peep thro',
When the ominous clouds are rifted!
There was never a night without a day,
Or an evening without a morning;
And the darkest hour as the proverb goes,
Is the hour before the dawning.

There is many a gem in the path of life,
Which we pass in our idle pleasures,
That is richer far than the jeweled crown,
Or the miser's hoarded treasure;
It may be the love of a little child,
Or a mother's prayers to Heaven,
Or only a beggar's grateful thanks
For a cup of water given.

Better to weave in the web of life
A bright and golden filling,
And to God's will bow with a ready heart
And hands that are swift and willing,
Than to snap the delicate minute threads
Of our curious life asunder,
And then blame Heaven for the tangled ends
And sit, and grieve, and wonder!

GIVING JOY TO A CHILD.

Blessed be the hand that prepares a pleasure for a child, for there is no saying when and where it may bloom forth. Does not almost everybody remember some kindhearted man who showed him a kindness in the dullest days of his childhood? The writer of this recollects himself at this moment, as a barefooted lad, standing at the wooden fence of a poor little garden in his native village, while with longing eyes he gazed on the flowers which were blooming there quietly in the brightness of a Sunday morning. The possessor came forth from his little cottage; he was a woodcutter by trade, and spent the whole week at work in the woods. He had come into the garden to gather flowers to stick into his coat when he went to church.—He saw the boy, and breaking off the most beautiful of his carnations—it was streaked with red and white—he gave it to him.

Neither the giver nor the receiver spoke a word, and with bounding steps the boy ran home. And now here, at a vast distance from that home, after so many events of so many years, the feeling of gratitude which agitated the breast of that boy expresses itself on paper. The carnation has long since withered, but now it blooms again.—Douglas Jerrold.

We find the following in a London paper. It is only an exaggerated statement of what occurred with Dr. Bethune:

What the reporter said of the lecturer: "The lecture last evening was a brilliant affair. The hall ought to have been filled.—We are sorry to say only forty persons were present. The speaker commenced by saying that he was by birth an ecclesiastical deduction; gave a learned description of the devil and his skill in sawing trees. Among other things, he stated that the Patriarch Abraham taught Cecrops arithmetic. We trust the eloquent divine may be induced to repeat the lecture at some future day."

What the lecturer said of the reporter: "Dear sir,—In a report of my lecture in your beautiful city, you have made some mistakes which I wish to correct. You make me speak of myself as by birth an 'ecclesiastical deduction.' What I said was, that I was not, by birth, only ecclesiastically, a Dutchman.—Instead of speaking of the devil as sawing trees, I spoke of him as sowing tares. I said nothing of Abraham, but spoke of the Arabians as nomads of patriarchal simplicity. I said that Cecrops was the founder of Athens, and instructed the people in agriculture."

A VALUABLE OYSTER.—A few days since a prominent gentleman went on board an oyster boat lying at one of the landings on York river, Va., and bought a few of the "bivalves" in the shell, which he proceeded to open for himself. Attached to and imbedded in the shell of one of them he encountered a metallic substance. This oyster he carried home, and there proceeded to break it to pieces with a hammer. Picture his astonishment when he found that it contained a French gold coin, known as a Louis d'or, of the value of about fourteen dollars, bearing date 1773. It is probable that it was lost overboard from the French fleet during the siege of Yorktown.—Richmond Enquirer.

TRYING TO DECIDE.—A traveller stopped at a public house in Maine for the purpose of getting dinner, knocked, but received no answer. Going in, he found a little white-headed man in the embrace of his wife, who had his head under her arm, while with the other she was giving her little lord a pounding.—Wishing to put an end to the fight, our traveller knocked on the table, and cried out in a loud voice, "Hallos, here! who keeps this house?" The husband, though much out of breath, answered: "Stranger, that's what we are trying to decide."

BRIDGET'S LEMONADE.—"Bridget! Bridget! why don't you bring up the lemonade?" said Mrs. S., on the Fourth of July, from the top of the kitchen stairs. "Why, marm," said Bridget wiping the sweat from her red face with her checked apron, as she put her head round the staircase partition, "why, marm, you see the ice I put in the lemonade is so hard that it hasn't melted yet, though it's stirring it over the fire I've been for the last fifteen minutes or more."

THACKERAY used to tell of an Irishwoman begging alms from him, who, when she saw him put his hand in his pocket, cried out, "May the blessing of God follow you all your life!" but when he only pulled out his snuff box, immediately added: "and never overtake ye."

A LITTLE boy at one of our Sunday School concerts, recently, after much drilling at home, recited his verse as follows: "Children obey your parents, and you'll come out all right!" The little fellow got the sentiment, if not the language.—Northampton Gazette.

IT is said that the number of women above the age of twenty, who must remain single in consequence of the disproportion of the sexes in England and Wales, is between 300,000 and 400,000.

A WIDOW said to her daughter one day: "When you are of my age you will be dreaming of a husband."

"Yes, mamma," replied the young lady, "for the second time."

"MA, why is a postage stamp like a bad scholar?" "Because it gets licked and put in a corner."

"WHO was David's grandmother?" asked a clergyman, of a Sunday school scholar. "A woman, sir," replied the boy.

POOR COMPANY BETTER THAN NONE.

More than fifteen years ago the Supreme Court of Massachusetts commenced its sessions early in autumn, in Lenox, Berkshire county; thence, the arrangements were to hold sessions in all the counties eastward, terminating at Nantucket and Dukes county, embracing all of Massachusetts proper. This was called the Fall Circuit. In the succeeding spring, the circuit of the district of Maine was held, thus completing the circuit of the year. At this early period the late Judge P——, one of the court, invariably travelled on horseback. On one occasion, preparatory to the meeting of the court at Lenox, Judge P——, jogging along, not knowing exactly the localities of Berkshire county, fell in with a buxom New England girl on horseback, and inquired of her if she knew where he should turn off the main road to get to Lenox. "Certainly," said she, "I know every inch of the way, and can guide you."—"Well," said Judge P——, who was not a little eccentric, and somewhat renowned for his gruffness and coarse manners, "if you are going that way, I will even jog on with you, for poor company is better than none."

They did jog on, entered into conversation, and had a pleasant time of it, which had the effect to destroy the consciousness of distance. At length the judge felt that it was time to have arrived at the point where she said he must turn off, which, at the time of his inquiry, she had stated to be about two miles.

"Madam," said he, "have we got near the place I am to turn off?"

"La yes," she said, "we passed it about a mile and a half back."

"You hussy," said the judge, "why didn't you tell me?"

"La, sir, the reason I didn't was that I thought with you, that poor company was better than none."

THE LAUGH OF WOMEN.—A woman has no natural gift more bewitching than a sweet laugh. It is like the sound of flutes on the water. It leaps from her in a clear, sparkling rill; and the heart that hears it feels as if bathed in the cool, exhilarating spring. Have you ever pursued an unseen fugitive through the trees, led on by a fairy laugh, now here, now there, now lost, now found? We have; and we are pursuing that wandering voice to this day. Sometimes it comes to us in the midst of care, or sorrow, or irksome business, and then we turn away and listen, and hear it ringing in the room like a silver bell, with power to scare away the evil spirits of mind. How much we owe to that sweet laugh! It turns prose to poetry; it flings flowers to sunshine over the darkness of the wood in which we are traveling; it touches with light even our sleep, which is no more than the image of death, but is consumed with dreams that are shadows of immortality.

INCARNATE LAZINESS.—We have a sloth on board, the most fascinating of all our pets to me—not certainly for his charms, but for his oddities. I am never tired of watching him, he looks so deliciously lazy. His head sunk in his arms, his whole attitude lax and indifferent, he seems to ask only for rest. If you push him, or if, as often happens, a passer-by gives him a smart tap to arouse him, he lifts his head and drops his arms so slowly, so deliberately, that they hardly seem to move, raises his heavy eye-lids, and lets his large eyes rest upon your face for a moment with appealing, hopeless indolence; then the lids fall softly, the head droops, the arms fold heavy about it, and he collapses again into absolute repose. This mute remonstrance is the nearest approach to activity I have seen in him.—Agassiz's Brazil.

THE young married women in Hungary, the land of pretty women, have recently been highly excited about the important question which of them is to be the wet nurse of the expected baby of the Queen of Hungary, as the Empress of Austria is called in the land of the Magyars. It had been given out that the handsomest and strongest young married women was to suckle the royal and imperial baby, and over one hundred photographs were sent to the doctor who was to choose the nurse. This modern Paris decided in favor of a beautiful young woman of Seragsus, who has already arrived at Pesth, where she is the observed of all observers. She is to receive five thousand florins for her trouble, and a liberal pension for her whole life.

A SHERIFF officer was lately sent to execute a writ against a Quaker. On arriving at the house he saw the Quaker's wife, who, in reply to the inquiry whether her husband was at home, answered in the affirmative, at the same time requested him to be seated, and her husband would speedily see him. The officer waited patiently some time; but the fair Quakeress coming into the room, he reminded her of her promise that he should see her husband. "Nay, friend," said she, "I promised that he should see thee; and he has seen thee. He did not like thy looks; therefore he avoided thee, and has left the house by another path."

"JOHN," said a gentleman to his servant, "I am going to church, and if it should rain, I wish you would come with the umbrella for me; however, you need not come unless it should rain downright." The gentleman went. It did rain; but John had gone to the other end of the town

NATIONAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT
GEN. ULYSSES S. GRANT.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT
HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX.

STATE TICKET.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL
GEN. JOHN F. HARTRANFT.

FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL
GEN. JACOB M. CAMPBELL.

GRANT AND COLFAX.

We gladly fling our flag to the breeze—illuminated as it is by the names of the wisest, purest and greatest of American citizens. As a ticket, it challenges the respect even of enemies, and will arouse the hearty co-operation of all friends.—It embraces the two most eminent of all their cotemporaries—GRANT, first in War, COLFAX, first in Peace.

This ticket will be invincible; and the joint administration of these chosen champions and representatives of undefiled Republicanism will bring repose to the nation, supremacy to our principles, and lasting power to the great organization which saved the nation from threatened overthrow, and whose principles alone can effectively secure the benefits fairly won in that fierce and dreadful struggle.

The Convention has made the wisest possible selection of standard-bearers; and has opened the campaign auspiciously. Both are in the prime of life. Each has a personal and public record without a stain. So, defying our foes, we tell them that the Republican Party intend to "RE-POSSESS" the government filched from them by Johnson's perfidy; and that GRANT shall be the next President, and COLFAX the next Vice-President of the United States.

THE Copperhead Legislature of Ohio has adjourned till November 23rd next. It passed a series of disgraceful acts. One undertakes to nullify the decision of their Supreme Court, made twenty years ago, as to who may vote under the Constitution of Ohio—thus attempting to override a judicial decision by legislative act on a subject of which the legislative department has not jurisdiction. Besides, they have prohibited the Supreme Court from taking up any case arising under it! We hear from Copperheads everywhere, fierce and hot denunciation of Congress for an alleged attempt to interfere with the judicial action of the Supreme Court of the United States, but Congress dared nothing so reckless and revolutionary in principle as the Ohio Copperheads have not only dared, but actually done! So that Copperhead piety on this class of subjects, is, by their own confession, dependent upon the "circumstances of the case."

Another act was to attempt to disfranchise all students and professors in colleges, seminaries and academies in Ohio. The reason is, students and teachers generally vote the Republican ticket! The Copperheads profess to have great scruples about the temporary disfranchisement of leading Rebels—who were guilty of great crime; but they have no scruple about disfranchising permanently whole classes of honest and reputable citizens when so doing holds out to them the promise of making political capital thereby.

Another act, of like character but worse malignity, disfranchises all the worn and wounded, battered and bruised, legless and armless veterans who are in the soldiers' Home in Dayton. This is done to help elect CLEMENT L. VALLANDIGHAM to Congress; for whom it was reasonably supposed these 400 wounded soldiers would not cast their ballots.

This legislation is a sample of what would be attempted in every loyal State in which this abandoned party might get power. Its infamous proscriptiveness, its malignant wickedness, its defiant shamelessness prove the real character of the Copperhead party as essentially base, unscrupulous, and dangerous. In defeat, it is whining and hypocritical. In victory, it is aggressive and insolent. At all times, and in all places, it follows false lights, seeks base purposes, uses infamous means, and deserves utter overthrow.

COPPERHEADS falsely assert that Impeachment will cost $400,000. The men who pay the bills and ought to know, say it will cost $10,000 only, and have asked for that sum. The Cops lie—as if they understood the science.

JOHNSON'S removal would save the country one hundred millions a year by breaking up the corrupt "Whisky Ring," which defrauds the government out of the most enormous revenues; and the failure to remove him will perpetuate for a year more the most completely-organized rascality ever on this continent.

THE Impeachment trial has demonstrated the close relations existing between the "Whiskey ring" and President Johnson. The "ring" defrauds the Government out of not less than a hundred millions of dollars a year, and have, very naturally, used part of this money to keep in office Andrew Johnson who winks at their rascality. These swindlers are of course Copperheads, and "induce" many of the Copperhead papers to conceal these damaging facts from the people.

COPPERHEADS are complaining of the cost of executing the Registry law. This law was necessary to protect the purity of the ballot-box, and to secure honest elections. And this must be secured, whether it cost much or little. But the State Guard suggests that a close calculation shows that it will not require any more public money to defray the expense of making a registry of voters than it took annually to pay the cost of a judicial and legislative investigation of election frauds committed by Democrats.

"POOR PIERCE" is fishing after the Copperhead nomination. He writes a public letter to say that he will be glad to support either Pendleton, Seymour, Hendricks, Doolittle, Hancock, or "any other man." He's the "other fellow" who was in his mind. The Cops don't yet "see it."

AN INTERESTING RECORD.

In 1866, Senator TRUMBULL was very active in getting up a project to prevent JOHNSON from removing deserving officials. He prepared several propositions, all of which were lost. The next year, the Civil Tenure Act was passed, but, as Senator TRUMBULL did not draw it, he of course finds it very imperfect!

In the debate on his propositions in April and May 1866, Mr. TRUMBULL made this declaration of opinion:

"I deny that if a vacancy exists in any office while the Senate is here, the President has any power to fill up that vacancy, without the advice and consent of the Senate."

Mr. HENDERSON, in the same debate said:

"When we come to examine the Constitution we clearly come to the conclusion that the President has no power to remove an officer."

Thus we have one of the gentlemen on record against the President's right to remove an officer; and the other against his right—there being a vacancy from any cause—to fill it up during the session of the Senate, without its consent.

Now, JOHNSON removed STANTON.—He then filled the vacancy by appointing LORENZO THOMAS to the office, and this during the session of the Senate and without its consent.

The first, second, and third articles charge these identical acts upon JOHNSON. It is announced that HENDERSON and TRUMBULL are against all these articles. It would be interesting to have them try to reconcile that vote with the above opinions, declared when there was no inducement to conceal, or deny, their real views.

FLAKE'S Bulletin, the leading newspaper published in Galveston, Texas, pays a handsome compliment to Hon. THADDEUS STEVENS, which we commend to the attention of vindictive Copperheads of the North. The circumstance proves that fidelity to principle and persistent adherence to honest conviction will ultimately command the respect of mankind, while truckling subserviency and cowardly dissimulation will surely re-act against the hypocrite and his objects.

The Bulletin remarks:

"While we disagree with him and disapprove of many of his projects, we cannot but admire his terrible earnestness. No man not thoroughly convinced of his own rectitude and of the innate wisdom of his acts, would, day by day, follow them out with such intense anxiety while the clods of the grave were crumbling beneath his feet. Day after day he totters or is carried into the House, straining the brittle thread of life—for the purpose of accomplishing a political act—an act from which he can gain no possible good, but which he professes to believe necessary for the good of his country and of its people. No man can read the daily reports of Congress and doubt the honesty of this old man, nor the pureness of his motives, however much he may doubt their wisdom. Right or wrong, still the sight of Thaddeus Stevens battling for that which he thinks is right, with scarcely an hour's lease of life, is one of the grandest views of human nature that the manhood of the present century has afforded us."

HON. N. B. JUDD, M. C. from Chicago, an old personal friend of Senator TRUMBULL, made a speech in Chicago on the 18th, in which he alluded to TRUMBULL, and said he had always aided him in securing position, but he now desired to inform the people that TRUMBULL had betrayed them, and "as he had made his own bed let him lie in it." He said, one week before, TRUMBULL had told him (JUDD) that JOHNSON had violated the law in appointing THOMAS Secretary of War ad interim, and only on the last Tuesday he had told Senator CRAGIN of N. H., that he (TRUMBULL) could vote for the eleventh article. On the Saturday after this conversation, TRUMBULL voted against the eleventh article—of course protesting his virtue and conscientious judgment!

Congressman CLARKE of Kansas, at the same time, said that Ross of Kansas had been chosen Senator as a good and true man, but he had "sold out" at the last moment.

THE Soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention met at Chicago on the 19th. The permanent President was Gov. FAIRCHILD of Wisconsin, a gallant man who lost an arm at Gettysburg. The Convention recommend the nomination of General GRANT as the choice of the Soldiers and Sailors of the Union, declare for the maintenance of those principles for which they fought, and pledge themselves to the earnest and active support of the Republican party as the only political organization which is true to the principles of loyalty, liberty, and equality before the law. They also assert that the evidence in the Impeachment Trial has proved ANDREW JOHNSON guilty in the judgment of the people, and condemn those Senators who voted for his acquittal. When this resolution was on its passage, every member of the Convention rose to his feet and groaned ANDREW JOHNSON, whilst the band played "The Rogue's March."

THE West Virginia papers are handling VAN WINKLE without gloves.—They say that on the 12th inst., he told one of the West Virginia Representatives he would vote for the eleventh article and against the rest; and he wrote an opinion in favor of that article. On the 15th inst., he had an interview with Chief Justice CHASE who convinced him that he ought to vote against the eleventh article. So that the Chief Justice can claim at least one convert against Impeachment.

VAN WINKLE was originally elected through the influence of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company, and is much under the influence of the ideas which prevail in that Rebel-bound city. It indicates how the world moves and how rapidly, that the Chief Justice is now in harmony with this chief city of his circuit.

ALL the crowned heads of Europe are exulting over JOHNSON'S acquittal.—There is a secret sympathy between tyrants.

The liberty-loving masses of Europe are depressed by his acquittal, for they know that it will help fasten fetters upon their limbs.

GRIMES has been struck with paralysis and has ordered his books packed and sent to Iowa, whither he intends going. We suspect he'll resign after the Impeachment votes have been taken. His absence will not hurt the President, as it will still require 36 votes to convict.

THE Republican National Executive Committee consists of one person from each State and Territory—WILLIAM H. KEMBLE, Esq., late State Treasurer, is the member for Pennsylvania, and will be very efficient. HORACE GREELY is for New York, and is likely to be the Chairman of the Committee.

Grant, Colfax and Victory!

"MATCH HIM!"

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION

HARMONIOUS PROCEEDINGS

GRANT NOMINATED by ACCLAMATION

SCENE OF WILD ENTHUSIASM

COLFAX FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

A CAPITAL PLATFORM.

Preliminarily to the meeting of the Convention, the Pennsylvania delegation organized by elected Col. John W. Forney its chairman; and by a vote of 38 to 14 resolved, on motion of Mr. Cessna, that the Delegation cast the vote of the State as a unit upon all questions in the National Convention. This was subsequently rescinded. Col. A. K. M'Clure was admitted as a member of the delegation in place of Gen. Harry White, not present; Joseph Horn was made the Pennsylvania member of the Committee on organization; Hon. Thomas E. Cochran, of the Committee on order of business; and Samuel A. Dimmick, Esq., of the Committee on resolutions.

At 12½ o'clock on the 20th, Gov. Ward of New Jersey called the Convention to order and made a brief address. He said delegates were here to take no steps backwards, but to demonstrate that the war was not a failure. An emancipated race had been lifted from slavery, and to-day unites with the republican party to maintain the Republic. Neither armed treason nor political treachery can arrest the triumph of our cause. [Great applause.] If you designate as your leader the great captain of the age, the nation will greet it as a precursor of victory to our cause and peace to the republic. [Applause.]

Prayer was then offered by Bishop Simpson.

On motion, Carl Schurz, of Missouri, was appointed temporary chairman, and conducted to the chair amid loud applause.

General Schurz delivered a brief address, returning thanks for the honor bestowed upon him. He reviewed the history of the republican party and asserted its triumphs in support of liberty, union, humanity and equal rights. The problem of the future is to secure the fruits of the past, and adapt the country to the new order of things. This requires the greatest prudence and firmness. Referring to President Lincoln he said we measure our loss through his death by what he left behind him. [Laughter and applause.] He counselled moral courage. Victory will be true to the republican party as long as the republican party is true to itself. Let not passion carry us beyond the bounds of wisdom and self-respect. [Applause.]

Committees on organization, credentials, resolutions, &c., were appointed, and the Convention adjourned till evening, when General JOSEPH R. HAWLEY, Ex-Governor of Connecticut, was elected permanent President. He was escorted to the chair by Ex-Gov. SOLOMON of Wisconsin, Ex-Gov. BROWN of Georgia, amid great cheering. Hon. J. K. MOORHEAD of Pittsburgh was chosen the Vice President for Pennsylvania. Ex-Gov. BROWN of Georgia was called upon, and made a spirited speech.

General LEE of Louisiana reported from the Committee on credentials, the list of delegates. In relation to Pennsylvania he said that there appeared 59 delegates, whereas that State was entitled to only 52 votes. The committee recommended that the 59 delegates be admitted to the floor, and that they be authorized to cast the 52 votes to which the State is entitled. The committee decided to allow the delegations from the several Territories the right to a seat and the privilege of casting each two votes. The same was accorded to the District of Columbia. In regard to Maryland the committee recommended the admission of the Creswell delegation but they accorded seats to the contestants without the right to vote. The regular delegates from California headed by Messrs. Cadey and Sedes, were recommended for admission. The delegates from the unreconstructed States are entitled to seats and votes. Colorado was admitted, as decided by the Convention this morning. The report was then adopted. The Convention contained 650 delegates, of which number 326 were necessary to a choice.

On Thursday morning the 21st, Gen. JOHN M. PALMER of Illinois, made a speech after which the Committee on Resolutions reported the following which were read and adopted amid applause:

The National Republican party of the United States, assembled in national convention in the city of Chicago, on the 20th day of May, 1868, make the following declaration of principles:

First. We congratulate the country on the assured success of the reconstruction policy of Congress as evinced by the adoption in a majority of the States lately in rebellion, of constitutions securing equal civil and political rights to all, and it is the duty of the Government to sustain those constitutions and to prevent the people of such States from being remitted to a state of anarchy. [Cheers.]

Second. The guarantee by Congress of equal suffrage to all loyal men at the South was demanded by every consideration of public safety, of gratitude, and of justice, and must be maintained; while the question of suffrage in all the loyal States properly belongs to the people of those States. [Cheers.]

Third. We denounce all forms of repudiation as a national crime; [prolonged cheers;] and the national honor requires the payment of the public indebtedness, in the uttermost good faith, to all creditors, at home and abroad, not only according to the letter but the spirit of the laws under which it was contracted. [Applause.]

Fourth. It is due to the labor of the nation that taxation should be equalized and reduced as rapidly as the national faith will permit.

Fifth. The national debt contracted, as it has been, for the preservation of the Union for all time to come, should be extended over a fair period for redemption, and it is the duty of Congress to reduce the rate of interest thereon whenever it can be honestly done.

Sixth. That the best policy to diminish our burden of debt is to so improve our credit that capitalists will seek to loan us money at lower rates of interest than we now pay, and must continue to pay, as long as repudiation, partial or total, open or covert, is threatened or suspected.

Seventh. The government of the United States should be administered with the strictest economy, and the corruptions which have been so shamefully nursed and fostered by Andrew Johnson call loudly for a radical reform.

Eighth. We profoundly deplore the untimely and tragic death of Abraham Lincoln, and regret the accession of Andrew Johnson to the presidency, who has acted treacherously to the people who elected him and the cause he was pledged to support; who has usurped high legislative and judicial functions; has refused to execute the laws; has used his high office to induce other officers to ignore and violate the laws; has employed his executive power to render insecure the property, peace, liberty and life of the citizens; has abused the pardoning power; has denounced the national legislature as unconstitutional; has persistently and corruptly resisted, by every measure in his power, every proper attempt at the reconstruction of the States lately in rebellion; has perverted the public patronage into an engine of wholesale corruption, and has been justly impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors, and properly pronounced Ninth. The sentiment of Great Britain and other European powers, that because a man is once a subject he is always so, must be resisted at every hazard by the United States as a relic of the feudal times, not authorized by the law of nations, and at war with our national honor and independence. Naturalized citizens are entitled to be protected in all their rights of citizenship as though they were native born, and no citizen of the United States, native or naturalized, must be liable to arrest and imprisonment by any foreign power for acts done or words spoken in this country; and if so arrested and imprisoned it is the duty of the government to interfere in his behalf.

Tenth. Of all who were faithful in the trials of the late war there were none entitled to more special honor than the brave soldiers and seamen who endured the hardships of campaign and cruise, and imperilled their lives in the service of the country; the bounties and pensions provided by law for these brave defenders of the nation are obligations never to be forgotten; the widows and orphans of the gallant dead are the wards of the people—a sacred legacy bequeathed to the nation's protecting care.

Eleventh. Foreign emigration, which in the past has added so much to the wealth, development of resources and increase of power to this nation, the asylum of the oppressed of all nations, should be fostered and encouraged by a liberal and just policy.

Twelfth. This convention declares its sympathy with all the oppressed people which are struggling for their rights.

Thirteenth, That we highly commend the spirit of magnanimity and forbearance with which the men who have served in the Rebellion, but now frankly and honestly cooperate with us in restoring the peace of the country and reconstructing the Southern State Governments upon the basis of impartial justice and equal rights, are received back into the communion of the loyal people; and we favor the removal of the disqualifications and restrictions imposed upon the late Rebels in the same measure as their spirit of loyalty will direct, and so may be consistent with the safety of the loyal people. [Cries of Good, good.]

Fourteenth. That we recognize the great principles laid down in the immortal Declaration of Independence as the true foundation of democratic government, and we hail with gladness every effort toward making these principles a living reality on every inch of American soil.

A resolution was then adopted that the Convention shall continue its organization and come together at the call of its President.

The Convention then proceeded to the nomination of candidates.

NOMINATION OF GENERAL GRANT.

An unanimous motion was made to proceed to ballot for President, and Mr. Logan, in the name of the loyal people and soldiers of the Republic, nominated U. S. Grant. The whole Convention rose to their feet, amidst great cheering and waving of hats and handkerchiefs. The applause was prolonged.—Three cheers were given for General Grant, and the bands played "Hail to the Chief."

THE VOTE OF THE STATES.

As the States were called each voted for General Grant. Georgia's vote was announced by Governor Brown, who said that Georgia Republicans, many of whom were original Secessionists, recognized the maxim—"Enemies in war—in peace, friends." During the progress of the call, each successive vote was received with great enthusiasm. General Sickels, rising to cast the New York vote, was received with cheers. The Territories were also called, each having two, except Colorado, which was allowed six.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE RESULT.

The Chair announced 650 votes, all for Grant. [Great cheering.] As the vote was announced a new drop curtain in the rear of the stage was uncovered, presenting a fine picture of General Grant, supported by liberty. Above was the motto, "Match him."

On motion the President was authorized to telegraph the nomination to General Grant.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC DEMONSTRATION.

The demonstrations of enthusiasm on the announcement of the nomination of General Grant were overwhelming. Red, white and blue pigeons flew through the opera house; the band played "Hail to the Chief," and five thousand people rose and sang, with the bands playing, "Rally Around the Flag," and then gave eighteen cheers.

NOMINATION OF SPEAKER COLFAX.

Five ballots were then taken as follows for Vice-President:

	1st	2d	3rd	4th	5th
Colfax of Ind's	119	149	155	186	522
Wade of Ohio	149	170	178	204	42
Fenton of N. Y.	132	140	139	144	75
Wilson of Mass.	119	113	101	87	11
Hamlin of Maine	30	30	25	25
Harlan of Iowa	17	withdrawn
Curtin of Penn's	52	45	40	withd'n
Kelley of Penn's	6	withdrawn
Creswell of Md.	14	withdrawn
Speed of Ky.	22	withdrawn

PENNSYLVANIA MADE THE NOMINATION.

Upon the withdrawal of Gov. Curtin, after the third ballot, the Pennsylvania delegation then created a diversion in favor of Judge Wade, and would doubtless have maintained its position, but for the indication of weakness towards Wade in the delegation from his own State. New York having determined to adhere to Fenton until it could control the nomination, Pennsylvania immediately reversed her position, first giving Colfax thirty votes and Wade twenty, and before the ballot had proceeded much further, declared for Colfax solid. The effect was overwhelming. The change gave Colfax the lead, and his success enlisted Iowa, Tennessee, and finally all the States but New York, (which State reserved its vote for the purpose of making the motion to declare the nomination unanimous,) and a few of the Territories who did not succeed in getting the eye of the Chair. New York had intended to do as Pennsylvania did as soon as Fenton failed, and consequently was somewhat miffed at being enchered out of the honor of making the second nomination on the ticket.

The nomination of Colfax was then made unanimous amid great applause; and after the transaction of some routine business, the Convention adjourned.

BEN. WADE was taking a lunch when he heard of the nomination of COLFAX. Previous telegrams had led him to expect his own nomination; but when he heard the result he said:

"Well, it is all right; GRANT and COLFAX will make a good ticket, and it will carry the people from Maine to California."

FOWLER says he voted against conviction, in the interest of the country and posterity.

In whose interest did he insist, in December last, in his speech, that JOHNSON ought to be impeached and removed, and that the country would not have quiet till that was done?

ACQUITTAL has stimulated Rebellion; and the Richmond Enquirer—the Copperhead organ in Virginia—insists that JOHNSON shall forth with refuse to execute the Reconstruction laws.

M. EDGAR KING and JAMES H. IRWIN, Esqrs., of McConnellsburg, have bought the Hollidaysburg Radical from JOHN BROTHERLINE, Esq., and will make an interesting and spicy paper.

THE Lewistown, (Pa.,) Gazette mentions the case of a marriage that recently took place in that neighborhood between a young Democrat and a mulatto girl! The same paper says that this is the third instance of the kind occurring in that locality within the past few years, the husbands, strange to say, being all Democrats. The Legislature ought surely to do something to protect the "white" Democracy. There is no safety for them except in stringent legal enactments.

SERENADE TO GRANT AND COLFAX.

On Saturday evening, a serenade was given to the standard-bearers of the Republican party, which was a very happy and enthusiastic affair. It was hardly a party matter, being more the compliment of a few friends and admirers. The Marine Band was in attendance. When General GRANT appeared he was cheered most heartily, and the excellent little speech he made was loudly applauded.—Mr. COLFAX'S speech, though short, was full of beauty, eloquent, incisive, and decided—trenchant in its reference to Andrew Johnson and impeachment. Every such reference was cheered to the echo.

After Gov. BOUTWELL'S address to General GRANT, the General briefly replied:

GENTLEMEN: Being entirely unaccustomed to public speaking, and without any desire to cultivate the power [laughter], it is impossible for me to find appropriate language to thank you for this demonstration. All that I can say is that to whatever position I may be called by your will, I shall endeavor to discharge its duties with fidelity and honesty of purpose. Of my rectitude in the performance of public duties, you will have to judge for yourselves by my record before you.

Three cheers were then given for Gen. Grant, and hundreds of the crowd entered the house and congratulated the General.

In response to W. P. Pike's speech of congratulation, Mr. COLFAX said:

MY FRIENDS: I thank you with all the emotions of a grateful heart for this flattering manifestation of your confidence and regard. I congratulate you on the auspicious opening of the eventful campaign on which we are entering. In the Chicago Convention, representing the entire continental area of the Republic, every State, every Territory, every district, and every delegate, from ocean, to ocean, declared that their first and only choice for President was Ulysses S. Grant. [Great applause.] Brave and yet unassuming, reticent and yet when necessary firm as the eternal hills—[applause]—with every thought and hope and aspiration for his country—with modesty only equalled by his merits—it is not extravagant for me to say that he is to day, of all men in the land, "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen." [Great applause.]

His name is the very synonyme of victory, and he will lead the Union host to triumph at the polls as surely as he led the Union armies to triumph in the field. But greater even than the conqueror of treachery and the destroyer of the rebellion is the glorious inspiration of our noble principles, animated by the sublime truths of the Declaration of Independence. Our banner bears an inscription more magnetic than the names of its standard bearers, which the whole world can see as it floats to the breeze, "Liberty and loyalty, justice and public safety."

Defying all prejudice, we are for uplifting the lowly and protecting the oppressed.—[Applause.] History records to the immortal honor of our organization, that it saved a nation and emancipated a race. We struck the fetters from the limbs of the slave and lifted millions into the glorious sunlight of liberty. We placed the emancipated slave on his feet as a man, and put into his right hand the ballot to protect his manhood and his rights. We staked our political existence on the reconstruction of the revolted States: on the sure and eternal corner-stone of loyalty, and we shall triumph. I know there is no holiday contest before us; but with energy and zeal, with principles that humanity approved, and that I believe God will bless, we shall go through the contest conquering and to conquer, and on the 4th of March next the people's champion will be borne by the people's votes to yonder White House, that I regret to say is now dishonored by its unworthy occupant. Then, with peace and confidence, we may expect our beloved country to enter upon a career of prosperity which shall eclipse the most brilliant annals of our past. I bid you God speed in this work, and now good night.

Applause followed the conclusion of Mr. Colfax's speech, and the band played an appropriate air. Many persons in the crowd entered the dwelling and extended their congratulations.

The Senate met again yesterday as a Court of Impeachment, and proceeded to vote on remaining Articles. On the 2d, 3d and 4th Articles the vote stood the same as on the 11th—Guilty 35, Not Guilty 19—lacking one of two-thirds. Whereupon the Court adjourned sine die.

In the House, Gen. BUTLER, on behalf of the Impeachment managers made a partial report charging the use of money to secure a verdict of acquittal, and asking process for the arrest of WOOTLEY, of the whisky ring, through whose hand the money is alleged to have passed, but who refused to testify. The House ordered process to issue.

GRANT'S OPINION OF COLFAX.—The correspondent of the New York Tribune telegraphs from Washington: General Grant said to your correspondent that Mr. Colfax is the most popular man in the country, and that the Democrats could accuse him of nothing except that he is a Republican.

THE frightened World, recoiling from the general revolt at the proposition to buy the recreant Senatorial votes at a million dollars a head, cries out that it was only in fun. This will hardly do. As in the case of that other funny Democratic man—Wilkes Booth—it has carried the joke too far.

Ross, of Kansas, called on Mr. Wade in Vice President's room on the 19th. He took a seat without invitation, and, after few awkward attemps, began a conversation excusing his action on impeachment. Wade listened in angry silence until Ross began to tell what would be Johnson's future course, and how well behaved he (Ross) expected him to be. Mr. Wade indignantly told the Kansas Senator that he desired to hear nothing further, and wished him to leave, saying that he hoped he would never speak to him again. Ross left.

THE signing of the bill which repealed the license law of 1867, virtually renews the law known as the "Buckalew Law," which punishes selling on Sunday with a fine of five dollars and costs. The argument in the Senate, when this repealing law passed, was founded on the legal axiom that when a law which repealed another is itself repealed, the first statute is thereby revived without any formal words for that purpose. Hence the Buckalew Law, being the former statute, is revived by the repeal of the license law of 1867.

The meeting agreed to adopt the Huntingdon, Fulton and Franklin R. R. charter, and the commissioners under said act organized and gave notice that books will be opened at different places in the three counties to receive subscriptions.—The Greencastle Echo of the 21st tells of a chicken which met death in the following manner. It was a motherless chicken, and was being reared in the house, its protectors often feeding it fish-worms. The chicken was in the habit of running around the room, feeding off the crumbs that fell from the table, and while so doing, it was suddenly taken sick, its neck being drawn into a knot and its bill wide open; it lingered in this condition for more than a day, when death ended its sufferings. A post mortem examination was concluded upon, and the chicken was opened, when it was discovered that it had swallowed a bunch of carpet ravelings, mistaken for fish-worms, one end of which was securely looped around its tongue, it being drawn down the throat into the craw, producing suffocation. The loop was so tightly drawn that it had to be cut from the tongue with a pair of scissors.

FREDERICK.—The Frederick Examiner thinks that until $250,000 are subscribed to the stock of the Frederick and Pennsylvania Line R. R. On the 13th inst., Mrs. Samuel Brinser, of Conoy township, gave birth to two children, in some respects similar to the Siamese Twins. Nearly the entire abdomen of the children is grown together. The formation of the one is perfect, with some few exceptions, while the abdomen, hips and lower extremities of the other are well formed, in having two complete arms, but neither chest, nor head. Life in both children is maintained by one set of internal organs, such as intestines, liver, and kidneys. Both children are males, and in size are unusually large.—The cost of building the Columbia bridge is estimated at $200,000. Two million shingles will be required for the roof. The family live on the farm owned by SOLOMON WELTY, Esq.

CORRECTION.—We are advised that the statement of facts alleged to have transpired at a public sale in Mountpleasant township, referred to in last week's paper, had little or no foundation—that there was no public sale of whiskey, and no such improper conduct as represented. The article was based on information furnished by a respectable citizen of Mountpleasant township, who seems to have been mislead as to the facts, and we cheerfully make the correction.

CATTLE DISEASE.—The Cattle disease, of which our intelligent correspondent D. P. F. wrote a few weeks ago, is on the increase in Montgomery and the adjoining counties, one citizen in one township of the former county having buried twenty-five cows since last fall. Traders from Philadelphia and elsewhere are said to be carrying on an extensive and unlawful business in the purchasing of cattle diseased or supposed to be affected and selling the meat for food. No cure appears thus far to have been found, and nothing effective in preventing the spread of the disease.

ACCIDENTAL BURNING.—The following from the McConellsburg Democrat of 22d, has a local interest:

"A couple of strangers, names unknown, travelling a foot and going on eastward stopped in the evening of a rainy day of last week, at the old waste house half way down the western side of Scrub Ridge, three miles west of this, intending to remain there during the night. They kindled a fire and had gone to sleep. Some time in the night they were awakened by the discovery that the fire had somehow communicated itself to the clothes of one of the men, an Irishman, who resides somewhere near Gettysburg, but whose name we were unable to ascertain. The back of his shirt was completely ablaze and though he violently endeavored to extinguish the flames he was unable to do so until the shirt was completely torn from his body. His companion immediately started for help and going to the house of Mr. Shaffer, nearly a mile this side, succeeded in procuring assistance. This sufferer was removed the next day, by the Overseers of Licking Creek township, who are now caring for him. The unfortunate stranger's life is considered to be very greatly in danger."

HANOVER BRANCH RAILROAD.—In the year ending March 31, 1868, the Company earned $54,696.25 on its own road; $10,775.40 for working Gettysburg road; $2,198.90 for working Littlestown road; and sold $2,624.59 of materials. Gross earnings $70,295.12. Its expenses have been $40,627.88; and its net earnings $29,667.24. It carried 25,115 through passengers, and 8,828 local.—Its passenger receipts were $17,698.68; and its freight, $35,575.07. A new 26 ton locomotive was added during the year; and all the engines changed to burn bituminous coal.—The Company expects to declare half-yearly dividends of five per cent., and the construction of the new road from Littlestown to Frederick will increase its business. The newly-developed ore interest on the line of the Road, produced most of the $8,788.54 increase in freight receipts this year over last. Rev. E. B. WILSON, of the (German) Reformed Church of Columbia county, Penna., while on a visit to a married daughter, Mrs. JACOB BEAMER and family, in Menallen township, died very suddenly on Sunday morning of last week. The deceased leaves a wife and children, and was in his 50th year.

The Juniata Register says:—PETER GRAYBILL, formerly of Juniata county, now about 53 years of age, has fallen heir, by the death of a relative, to considerable property. It is not known whether he is living or dead.—He left the county when a young man, since which time nothing has been heard of him until about five years ago, when he was living in Pottsville. Our exchanges will please make a note of the above.

JOHN L. BURNS of this place, visited Harrisburg on Tuesday of last week. The State Guard of 21st says: "He seemed to be in good health, and during the day visited several of the Departments on the hill, where he was cordially received and welcomed.—In the evening he called on Dr. COOVER, who is an old acquaintance, when in the course of an hour, he was suddenly attacked with paralysis. The doctor rendered all the medical aid in his power, after which he was conveyed to his place of sojournment." Mr. BURNS has since improved, and he hoped to be able to come home by the middle of this week. The news of his affliction caused general and sincere sorrow through the community.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a meeting of the students of Penna. College, in the College Chapel, on the 22d inst., the following memorial was unanimously adopted and sent to the family of the deceased, as the expression of their feelings in view of the death of their late President, Rev. H. L. BAUGHER, D. D.:

Our Heavenly Father, who is too "wise to err," "too good to be unkind," having seen fit to remove, by death, Rev. H. L. BAUGHER, D. D., the official head of this Institution, and our true friend and faithful instructor, we mourn the dispensations of Providence, which had deprived us of a beloved President and a learned and godly man, who sustained a relation to us almost paternal in its character.

In the midst of our mourning, we rejoice that his death was made peaceful and happy, by the presence of the Saviour, for whom he lived, and whose cross he so long upheld before the Church and the world.

The earnest and active christian life, the fearless advocacy of right and reform, and the broad philanthropy, which distinguished our departed and revered instructor, challenge our admiration, and invite, and by God's blessing we trust will secure, our imitation.

The deep and abiding interest he took in us the pupils, both with respect to our temporal and eternal welfare, merits our warmest gratitude, and will cause us to cherish his memory throughout life.

We extend our cordial sympathies to his bereaved family and friends, in their sore trial, praying that they may receive the consolations of the Gospel, which the departed was so ready to administer to others, in like affliction.

As a testimony of our sorrow, we will wear the usual badge of morning, ninety days.

THE

RAILROAD COMPANY

offer a limited amount of their

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS AT PAR,

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST

PAYABLE IN GOLD.

The Great Pacific Railroad Line, extending 1731 miles from Omaha, on the Missouri River, to the tide-waters of the Pacific Ocean, is being built by two powerful Companies—THE UNION PACIFIC, beginning at Omaha, building West, and the Central Pacific of California, beginning at Sacramento, building East, until the two roads shall meet.

Both Companies have prosecuted the work with great vigor, the Union Pacific having already expended over and the Central over Twenty Millions, upon their respective parts of the undertaking. THE UNION PACIFIC HAVE COMPLETED 500 MILES—have iron and other materials for two hundred miles more upon the ground, and one hundred additional miles are ready for the track. They will have a much larger force employed this year than ever before, and it is expected that between will be in operation during 1868. There seems to be no reasonable doubt that the distance between Omaha and Sacramento will be traversed by rail in 1870.

THIRTY MILLION DOLLARS,

THE GOVERNMENT GRANTS 12,800 acres of land, and its Bonds to the average amount of $28,000 per mile, to aid in the construction of the line, and authorizes the issue of the First Mortgage Bonds now offered for sale, to the same amount and no more. The Government takes a second lien, and gives to the First Mortgage Bondholders a prior lien for their security, to which a large paid-up capital is added. The Bonds cannot be issued except as each section of twenty miles is accepted by Government commission, so that they always represent a real property.

It is universally admitted that on the completion of the Union Pacific Railroad, its through business will make it one of the most profitable in the world—but its way or local business is already several times the interest on its bonds; so that, if not another mile were built, they would be a secure investment.

THE NET EARNINGS for eight months of last year on an average of 306 miles are officially reported at $1,060,136, while the interest on all the Bonds it could issue on that length of road for that time, reduced to currency, was only $345,856.

The amount paid by the Government for the transportation of troops, munitions, stores and mails has been, and doubtless will continue to be, much more than the interest on the United States Second Mortgage Bonds.—If it is not, the charter provides that after the road is completed, and until said bonds and interest are paid, at least five per cent. of the net earnings of the road shall be applied to such payement.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of

NEARLY NINE PER CENT.,

AND IT IS BELIEVED THAT THEY WILL SOON BE AT A PREMIUM.

The Company have but a very limited supply of their Bonds remaining on hand, but any subscriptions accepted to a greater amount than can be filled from Bonds now in the Company's possession, will be supplied from the New Bonds to be issued on that portion of the road completed in the Spring, in the order in which they are received.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price of their bonds to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Gettysburg, Pa., by the

FIRST NATIONAL BANK and GETTYSBURG NATIONAL BANK,

and in New York

At the COMPANY'S OFFICE, No. 20 NASSAU STREET

AND BY

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, BANKERS, No. 59 WALL ST.,

And by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which can be sent free on application at the Company's offices or to any of the advertised agents.

A FEW WORDS ON THE GARDEN.

EDITORS OF THE STAR AND SENTINEL:—"For, lo, the winter is past. The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land?" Yes, the long, severe winter is past. The spring with its bright promise and with all its delightful associations is here again. Nature is renewing her youth, and so may we, men and women, who are growing old, renew something of the freshness of our early days. There is a wonderful charm in these bright sunny mornings. How early the sun begins his daily journey. Let me just hint that those who do not begin with him lose a vast deal. But perhaps there is nobody in Gettysburg who needs such a commonplace hint as that.

But I set out to say something on the garden. The garden, sweet word! It is the twin-sister of our word home, and only less precious than that dear word. I have in my mind, not a rude patch of ground in the garden, on which potatoes, cabbages and corn are grown. This is the only idea which many have with the fine term in question. I mean something that is the product of taste, that appeals to a finer sense, and that meets a higher want—something far more beautiful. The garden, as I am thinking of it, comes under the head of luxuries, rather than that of necessaries. As such it ought to accompany every home. There is indeed no home in the country anything like complete without it. There are plenty of houses in which people dwell, from which the garden is entirely banished—but are they homes? The garden is one of the cheapest, purest and most accessible of luxuries. It may be had on any scale of size and expense, from the little flower-bed in front of the laborer's cottage to the spacious grounds and magnificent gardens of the English nobility, filled with rare and beautiful plants from every clime. It accommodates itself to people of the most varied means and tastes. For people who love beautiful things there is no way in which one, three or five dollars can be spent to give half the amount of refined pleasure as laying out the little sum on flower-seeds, or on plants. A flower garden is one of the most generous things in the world. It gives such a profusion of beautiful and fragrant things. It affords a source of daily interest, in watching the buds as they swell and burst into the lively blossoms, so fine and various in form and so exquisite in color.

It will be understood that I am writing chiefly of the flower-garden. The vegetable and fruit-gardens are excellent and necessary also. But they speak for themselves. I need not plead their cause. My neighbors all around here in Maine are getting their hot-beds ready, and are putting in the seeds of the tomato, the cucumber and many others, while in the Old Keystone State there is no necessity for this, as vegetation is more advanced. I say go on, friends. But let me speak a word in behalf of my favorites. The flower-garden is the highest department, yet I did not fancy it much until I came to this State. Whether we consider the exquisite beauty of its products, the part of our nature to which it ministers, or the elevating and refining influence it exerts upon the character, we must award it the noblest place. It supplies not the wants which are for a day, but those which are eternal. Its impressions are made not upon that which is fleeting; they are stamped upon that within us which is immortal. These fine influences find their way to the soul through the noblest of our senses—that of sight.—Beauty, that mysterious and exquisite presence, which ever delights the pure and elevated heart, is the production of the flower-garden. Because it satisfies this noble and refined sense, it stands clear above the other departments. We may know much about the delicacy of a man's sensibilities and the elevation of his nature, by asking him to walk into the garden, and observing what department chiefly attracts him. He who overlooks roses and lillies, and lavishes his praises upon squashes, potatoes and beans, is either not made of the finest stuff, or it has not been tempered by exposure to the influence of beauty. There are many worldly-wise people who remain cold in the presence of the flower-garden, and cannot understand the enthusiasm of the florist at all. They would about as soon threw a dollar into the pond—would very much sooner, many of them, burn it in the pipe or dissolve it in the liquor-cup—as lay it out for flower-seeds. Sooner than lovingly tend the plants, they would loaf in a barroom or lounge on a sofa.

The garden has an important physical use. Its influence upon the development of the body, and in the preservation of its health, is of the most salutary kind. For all persons leading a sedentary life, it provides the finest and most healthy exercise. It is just the thing for women—who in our time and country are so sadly suffering because they do not exercise enough in the open air. I am aware that asking our ladies to go out into the garden and take hold, is a very unpopular doctrine. The despot fashion is against it. To do any work, with nothing but the sky above, seems to be considered by them a sort of depredation. This, however, is nothing but a national whim. Ladies, I open the garden gate and invite you to enter—assuring you that there you may find a hospital containing beds of flowers, radiant with beauty, on which you may dream away your dyspeptic gloom, and charm away many a pain.

Again, the garden exerts an excellent moral influence. It is a powerful and beneficent civilizer. It tends to purify the affections of what is gross, to elevate the thoughts to the contemplation of high themes; to lift men above sordid aims. The garden being the home of bowers and the scene of unappropriated beauty, is a manifestation of the divine bounty. So it rebukes and puts to shame the narrow selfishness that so dwarfs the soul and mars the character.

The kindly influence wafted from the flowers softens many a care and calms many a trouble. The rude becomes gentle in the presence of loveliness. The wearing anxiety of business may sometimes be forgotten, and the fretful unrest that preys upon so many may be allayed awhile in the tranquil shades of the garden. This influence is eminently blessed in the case of children and youth. If you would have your children grow up pure and gentle, simple and refined tastes, lead their infant with steps into the garden, and let the beauty there steal into their souls while fresh and tender.

A word on the home influence of the garden. There is reason for believing that the love of home is not strong in our country.—men leave their homes with little regret, and do not remember them with that fondness common to the people of some other countries. May it not be that the absence of gardens here, or the fact that they are generally on so poor a scale, have something to do with our home coldness? The roots of affection strike more easily and deeply into a beautiful spot than into one bald and unadorned. The memory of a home embowered in roses, jessamines, and honey-suckles, is a sweet and blessed possession. It never leaves us: how far soever we may roam. In a foreign land, long after many of the visions of youth have faded, amid the wreck of disappointed hopes, the heart finds many a respite in fondly lingering among its early joys, in the flower adorned cottage-home beyond the sea. Such a garden becomes identified with all the changes and events of the family. The tranquil evening hour is spent there. The children play in view of the flowers. The anxious parents pace the walks and muse. The maiden meets her lover in the rustic bower, at the twilight hour, when the moon-light shadows lie in belts across the walks and the air is full of the sweetest odors. When death crosses the threshold and cuts down the flower of the family, the bereaved ones go out into the garden to weep. Surely it is worth while to make such a spot beautiful.

A SERVANT FOR ALL.

Roth's Improvement for Opening, Closing and Latching Gates,

MAY be attached to any gate and operated from buggy, team or saddle, by one hand in any desired direction from the gate—opened and closed from one point, at any distance from the gate. This improvement is simple and cheap, yet perfect and strong; will not be disarranged by the swaying of the gate, nor by the frost raising the posts; may be made at a country blacksmith's, and easily attached to a gate. The undersigned, having the Right for Adams county, will sell Township and Farm Rights of this improvement.

Also, ROTH & SHANE'S AMERICAN LEVER GATE

—which will be found valuable and convenient to all who have gates to drive through—as they remain by their fastening open, close and latch a gate, without the necessity of getting in the wet or mud.
